

ALAN CACKETT

AMERICANA, ROOTS, COUNTRY & BLUEGRASS MUSIC

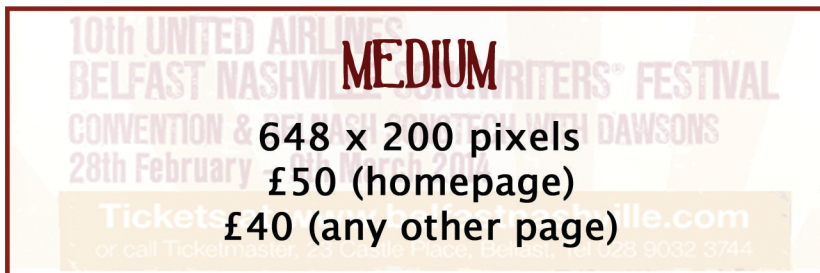

Here at AlanCackett.com we have established the most widely viewed platform for the views, musings, and insights of respected journalist, publicist and broadcaster, Alan Cackett, previously known to many as the Editor of Maverick Magazine.

We are delighted to be able to offer value for money, inexpensive, advertising opportunities to artists, labels, festivals and any other Americana, roots, country & bluegrass music based products.

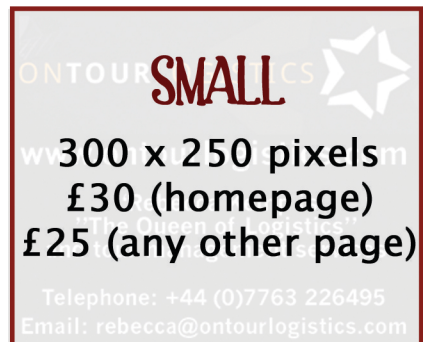

All of our adverts are clickable links to your website, sending our readers (your target audience) straight to your information source, a major benefit over traditional printed press advertising.

Below are examples of our standard advert sizes and prices, please feel free to contact us to discuss your needs further should you have any additional requirements.
